

BUSINESS FAILS TO DO 'COMEBACK'

Commerce Apparently Is Marking Time Before
Becoming Active

PLENTY OF LABORERS

Workers Driven From Cities
By Unemployment Turning
Toward the Fields

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Business showed little indication this month of getting away from the uncertainties of the last year, according to the monthly review of conditions made public tonight by the federal reserve board. Increased activities were noted in some trades, but with those exceptions, commerce apparently was waiting further developments before moving toward anything like normal conditions, federal reserve officials reported.

Longstanding trades showing a brighter side, including automobiles, textiles and footwear, the board hesitated in saying they had experienced more than temporary advances due to the spring season.

Without exception, the board's members reported that the buyers' strike felt first last summer, still showed an almost solid front. The optimistic expectation in connection with the employment situation, which the review said remained slightly improved conditions during the last 30 days, attributed to the increased seasonal activity in the three lines of manufacturing mentioned as showing more life.

Plenty of Farm Hands

Reports from reserve banks regarding agricultural communities indicate that the cry of the farmers for labor is being answered by persons driven out of cities through unemployment. Here again, however, future conditions could not be forecast by agents of the board because of uncertainties in general conditions. Reductions in wholesale prices continued during March and on this basis the board declared that post-war readjustment had not been completed, but declined to hazard a guess as to how long prices might continue to drop. In retail stores, the drop has not been as rapid as in wholesale trade, but reports indicate the retail decline has been steady.

Liquidation Is Forced

The combination of conditions in all lines has forced a continuation of liquidation, it was stated. Frozen credits continue to be released, yet there was only a slight reduction in the total amount of bank credit outstanding.

"An attitude of greater hopefulness on the part of the business communities and the expression of optimism on the part of commercial leaders that distinct improvement in domestic conditions is in sight," the board said, "represents a forecast rather than an analysis of actual facts."

ARE THE RECORDS OFF?

Woman and Dead Woman's Children
Are Claiming Estate of Woman
Worth Over $200,000

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., March 31.—A jury was today summoned to the district court to determine the identity of two persons, both of whom have grown to womanhood and one of whom has died.

Mrs. Maggie Meyers of Eastern, Kan., and the children of Mrs. Josephine Stinson, who died recently are claiming a $200,000 estate consisting of California lands. The court is to determine whether the woman was the daughter of Mrs. Marie Peoper, eccentric woman, who died here without other persons knowing she had the California property.

Orphanage records say Mrs. Simpson was the daughter. But Mrs. Meyers says the records are wrong; that it was a case of mistaken identity and that she is Mrs. Peoper's daughter and can prove it by scars received when a fire destroyed the Peoper home years ago.

WILL BUILD NEW HOSPITAL HERE

Baptists Say Tulsa the Logical Place for a
New Institution

Erection of a Baptist hospital in Tulsa, a project which has for some time been under consideration by the denomination, has now been definitely decided upon and will be planned immediately, according to an announcement made by Rev. W. C. Anderson of the First Baptist church Thursday.

"It has been the feeling for some time that Tulsa is the logical place to locate the next Baptist hospital," Doctor Anderson said. "Indeed, the hospital should have been built here before. There is a great demand for such an institution, and it will be the only Protestant hospital in this part of the state."

The hospital will be as complete and well-equipped as any in Oklahoma, was the statement of Doctor Anderson. It will serve essentially Tulsa, Creek, Rogers, Ozone, Nowata, and Washington counties, which comprise the territory of the Oklahoma Baptist association, and after the initial cost of erection will be practically self-supporting with remaining operating expenses taken care of by the Oklahoma Baptist association. It will have charity wards and will have all the departments of a modern hospital.

A local committee to confer with a committee from the Oklahoma Baptist association in regard to the proposed hospital was appointed at a meeting of the Baptist ministers' alliance of Tulsa this week and will consist of Rev. Anderson, Rev. C. E. Siler of Immanuel Baptist church, Rev. E. H. Owens of West Tulsa Baptist church, Rev. W. A. Todd of Nogales Baptist church, Rev. C. E. Canaday, city missionary and Dr. A. Ray Wiley, Dr. P. M. McConnell of Oklahoma City, state secretary of the Baptist church, will meet with the committee within the next ten days.

The Southern Baptist church of Oklahoma has hospitals at Miami, Oklahoma City and Muskogee and the denomination as a whole has gone extensively into hospital work, having hospitals all over the south.

JACK HOXIE HAS SILVER

MOUNTED SADDLE ONCE
OWNED BY BANDIT VILLA

A silver mounted Mexican saddle, once owned by Pancho Villa, the "border tiger," will be seen in every episode of "Thunderbolt Jack," the thrilling western serial starring Jack Hoxie, which will be exhibited at the Lyric theater next Wednesday and Thursday.

While punching cattle years ago down by the Rio Grande, Jack Hoxie crossed the border after a few "strays." He lost his way and was obliged to seek lodging at an adobe house many miles from home.

As he slept in the hay mow a troop of Mexican soldiers attacked the hacienda and Jack Hoxie volunteered to defend the home of the Mexican rancher who had given him shelter. After the battle, Jack Hoxie discovered a dead horse in an arroyo. He was amazed at the beauty of the saddle that was strapped to the dead pony and promptly salvaged it as a "souvenir of the little war," he says.

It was not until he had started production on "Thunderbolt Jack" that Mr. Hoxie found out that the saddle belonged to Villa. In one of the scenes in this serial, Jack Hoxie, "Pancho," threw him with much force that the pommel of the saddle was torn off, disclosing a neatly engraved silver plate underneath bearing Pancho Villa's name.

"When Villa gives up peacefully and is hung for wrecking Columbus, N. M., I'll donate the saddle to his family. Until then I'll keep it," says Jack. — Adv.

DEPENDABLE SERVICE.

The following are some of the outstanding features of the service of Traders No. 4 in the past, and are enumerated to give a practical basis on which to judge their service in the future.

1. They concentrated their efforts during the war time period to help protect you against profiteers.

2. As soon as the armistice was signed they inaugurated a campaign for a reduction in the price of food commodities but the bulls had their way.

3. Last fall when they saw that time was opportune they completely broke the backbone of the high cost of living in Tulsa. This was done through a well-planned series of big treats.

4. Their campaign against sharp practices is fresh in everyone's mind. They did not, idly stand by and give their silent consent to such practices, but by a persistent agitation on this matter, and with the co-operation of all those who favored the principles of the square deal, they succeeded in running many of the cowardly sharp practice sharks to cover.

5. Their move to larger and better quarters in the Buick building, at the corner of Second and Boulder, in the TREAT SUPERS. The finest store in the state with the lowest prices, clean, easily accessible from all directions, commodious, with good parking space, convenient, and out of the high rent district. Tulsa needed a store like this, and thousands of people have expressed their appreciation of this move. It will pay you to make this your store.

Night Edition of The World Opens New Field for Tulsa Merchants

A BROADER service has been extended WORLD advertisers with the inauguration of the early mail edition. A territory that has always rightfully belonged to Tulsa, but heretofore not served by Tulsa papers is now being covered by the WORLD.

While this is an early edition, yet it is as complete as it is possible to make a morning newspaper going to press at 9:15 p. m. With this early edition the territory north and east of Tulsa is served with partially the same paper you receive at your home in the morning with the exception of late news stories that break after press time.

In order that every WORLD advertiser may enjoy the service offered by this early edition it is essential that your advertisement scheduled for the home edition begin publication with this number. This will place your advertisement before WORLD readers in the territory north and east of Tulsa the same morning and at about the same time your announcement is read by city residents.

If your advertisement is to appear in this new edition it is necessary that your copy be in the office by six o'clock the day preceding publication. This will assure you our full circulation beginning with the new mail edition, on your daily advertisements. The Sunday issue is effected the same as the daily by this new edition for the complete issue will cover this territory. Advertisements scheduled for the Society Section must be in the office Thursday evening if they are to appear in the mail edition. Early copy means that your advertisement will reach this territory on the same morning it is read in Tulsa homes.

Much additional expense has been added with this new edition of the WORLD, but it was done with the view of widening Tulsa's trade territory and giving a broader service to Tulsa merchants. We believe Tulsa merchants are appreciative of this fact and that they will take full advantage of the opportunity by assisting us with early copy.
